PRESIDENT OF
VFW AUXILIARY
TO SPEAK HERE

Mrs. Sherman L. Olson, Denison, Ia., national president of the VFW Auxiliary, will be the speaker at a luncheon to be held by the Gettysburg Auxiliary Saturday afternoon, April 7, at 1 o'clock in the Hotel Gettysburg.

Members of the Gettysburg Post are also invited to attend the luncheon, a project of District 21 of the VFW Auxiliary. Mrs. Pearl L. Wiser, president of the Gettysburg unit, will preside.

Mrs. Olson, a native of Bern, Switzerland, was elected at the 42nd encampment of the Auxiliary September 2, 1955, in Boston. She is a member of the Ninus L. Hunt Auxiliary of Denison, Ia. She emigrated to America in 1906 with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Aebl. Mrs. Olson was educated in the public and state teachers' training schools in Iowa.

She has chosen as her project a program to give financial support and endorsement to the establishment of the American Museum of Immigration at the Statue of Liberty.

Mrs. Olson explains her interest in the project as follows:

"To me, the establishing of an American Museum of Immigration has both personal and patriotic appeal because it will provide a place where millions of naturalized immigrant citizens, like me, or the descendants of them can establish the ancestral record of their rich heritage as American citizens."

Representing an organization of 37,500 women, Mrs. Olson flew to England in November to participate in the VFW pilgrimage to Europe. She expects to visit every state in the union and some of the territories as part of her official duties.

Surviving in addition to his wife are these children: Lola, wife of George Snyder, Jacob's Creek, Pa.; Denzel, Cumberland, Md.; William and Guy, both of Ingleside Farm; 18 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren; three sisters, Mrs. Rebecca Myers, Kaiser, W. Va.; Mrs. Emsey Oates, Winchester, Va., and Mrs. Cecilia Shanholzer, Points, W. Va.

On behalf of himself and his wife, Miriam O. Cullison, as parents of Marilyn Cullison, Cullison is claiming funeral expenses and other damages from Hartman who he alleges was the driver of a car in which his son was a passenger. Hartman was involved in an accident, Cullison claims, when Hartman, passed another car bound in a third auto, headed toward Hartman.

the milling company's night superintendent on collected dust. Samuel Purdy said he was attempting to light a pilot light in a drying vat when the blast was touched off. The building collapsed almost immediately and burst into soaring flames.

Purdy and three of four other employees of the milling firm escaped with injuries.

"It was a dust explosion because that's the sort of thing that happens in places like this," Purdy said.

At a meeting of Bendersville Brownie Troop 29 Wednesday afternoon at the Bendersville School eggs were colored and placed in baskets to be given to several families for Easter. The Brownies danced the "Bunny Hop" after which an egg hunt was held. The meeting closed with the promise, friendship circle and taps. Twenty-five Brownies and two guests attended the meeting. The leaders, Mrs. William Wright and Mrs. James Wright, were assisted by Mrs. Lloyd Bream.

Like Locomotive Crashing
James Pierce of Millville, N.J., who was in the granary's front office with two other drivers — now listed as missing — said he emerged from the blast alive "by the sheer accident of fate."

"There was a sudden flash," he said, "and I was blown under the desk. It sounded like two locomotives striking each other. The blast blew my shoes off. Only the desk saved me."

"I crawled through the debris calling to the other guys. But there was no answer. It was pitch black. I was scared. I got the hell out of there."

Pedestrians Bowled Over
It was an explosion such as the city had never experienced before. Pedestrians ten blocks from the scene were bowled over. Clerical workers were jolted from their seats in the Pennsylvania Railroad's 14-story office building a block and a half from the blast.

Scarcely a building within a 10-block radius escaped damage.

The financial toll couldn't even be estimated. George Barrett, building supervisor for the Bulletin, said the newspaper's new plant had sustained damage that would run into "the many thousands of dollars." And that was only one building among scores.

Area Roped Off

Windows were shattered in the massive stone 30th Street Station of the PRR and the city's main post office building, both a block from the blast.

Within minutes, the city threw its full emergency system into high gear. Every available piece of fire and police apparatus was rushed into action.

Major Richardson Dilworth sped to the scene with Police Commissioner Thomas Gibbons and Fire Commissioner Frank McNamee.

The affected area was roped off quickly when several incidents of looting occurred. One of the damaged buildings across the street from the granary was a branch bank.

Traffic Disrupted

Traffic was disrupted for miles in every direction.

The Pennsylvania Railroad reported trains were delayed as hundreds of curious walked across its main tracks near the 30th Street Station, despite the flow of rail traffic.

The actual number of injured could not be pinpointed. Eleven hospitals listed more than 100 treated for injuries ranging from mere scratches to fractures. Other persons were treated at the scene.

Through the night scores of firemen played streams of high pressure hoses on the still smouldering ruins.

A small army of city employees worked under flood lights with forklift, giant novel and crane removing the ton of debris. Their operation was slowed by the need to check each coop of the brick and mortar for any trace of the missing men.

LittlestownSTREET REPAIR,
SURFACING TO START SOON AS WEATHER IS FIT

Littlestown Borough Council at its March meeting Tuesday evening announced that the new street commissioner, Joseph H. Redding, will begin his duties next Monday and that the necessary street surfacing and repair work in the town will get underway as soon as weather conditions permit. A report was presented to the council by the Street Committee on what work should be undertaken.

Council discussed the matter of completing the installation of water meters in the town and hinted that unless the work is completed "within a reasonable time" the water supply to unmetered properties might be cut off.

Borough Secretary Roger J. Keefler reported that metering of the town is about 95 per cent complete. He said the principal reasons that it has not been completed are that residents were not home when the plumber called to make the installation or there was some complication about locating the meter in basements or changes in piping. Council suggested that owners or tenants of unmetered properties make arrangements promptly with plumbers to have the work done.

Require Cast Iron Pipe

It was announced that a meter reading will be taken April 2 and owners and tenants were asked to make it possible to have meters read that day. A borough water permit was issued to James A. Clabaugh, 528 Prince St., for general household uses.

Council agreed that the standard pipe for use in water lines in the town should continue to be cast iron instead of transite or asbestos-cement pipe as asked by developers of the McSherry Park area. Council action was taken on recommendation of their consulting engineers who pointed out that almost all of the town's water lines are cast-iron and that if other types are added now it will be necessary to stock various kinds of pipe and tools for repairs and replacements.

Council employed Carl A. Loker of York to paint and repair the town standpipe with the work to start after April 15 at $3 per hour for painting and $7 per hour for welding.

Today's Talk

LITTLE THINGS

We never grow too old, too busy, or too important not to be ready to do a kindness or some simple service that may be the means of lessening the burden of some one else. Little things do far better than imagined big things.

Plato once said: "A little thing is a little thing, but faithfulness in a little thing becomes a great thing." And Wordsworth said: "That best portion of a good man's life, his little, nameless, unremembered acts of kindness and of love."

There are more little things to do in this life than big things, therefore the opportunity to take advantage of this fact, and do the helpful little things, is open to us all. They cost nothing to do, nothing but the desire.

Courtesy is a little thing, but it has its commercial value as well. People go into a big store and hunt out the clerk "who was so kind to me before." There is a big department store in St. Louis where they celebrate one day each year as "Courtesy Day." They wear uniforms and an atmosphere of good will is felt about the entire place.

Pretorius was not amused. "Get a bystander to carry that beam," he barked at a soldier. A startled citizen was conscripted for the task.

By GEORGE CORNELL

The Associated Press

Three of them today. A pathetic lot they were, especially one of them. Officer Pretorius strapped on his buckler and spoke sharply to his four-man detail: "Get them started."

He motioned to the herald, who stepped off bearing the orders of execution ahead of the condemned prisoners. That disabled one — He looked badly hurt — would never make it. Pretorius muttered an oath.

The fellow swayed helplessly, shouldering the 150-pound cross-beam. He obviously had been severely flogged — probably cuffed about all night without rest. Some jester had put a derisive "king's" crown on Him — of thorns.

Pretorius was not amused. "Get a bystander to carry that beam," he barked at a soldier. A startled citizen was conscripted for the task.

Puzzled At Remark

Across the teeming city, a wide-eyed, excited throng trailed the execution party. Some women pressed in close to the maimed prisoner, wailing bitterly. The poor wretch said: "Weep not for Me . . ."

Pretorius shook his head, puzzled. The fellow was a peculiar one — submissive, clean-cut, with a wise, friendly face, deeply veined with sorrow. Nothing at all like the two belligerent bandits who walked beside him.

Someone said He was 33, a kind of sensation-rousing holy man who claimed Godly lineage.

But He resembled no god Pretorius knew. To an alert Roman, it was safest to stay on the good side of all the gods — Jupiter, Venus, Ceres, and the rest — all properly worshipped before their temple images.

Follower Of Mithras

Certainly not out on the way-side, or just anywhere, as this fellow was said to have taught. Like most Roman soldiers, Pretorius nominally looked to Mithras — the warrior's invincible sun god — as the appropriate god for him.

A hot sun beat down as the procession moved out the west city gate and up the foul slope of Golgotha — the "Place of the Skull," with its stench of decay, litter of bones and ravens circling overhead.

Pretorius stood grimly, his arms folded, as the soldiers stripped the prisoners, laid them on their backs, their heads on the patibulum (crossbeams), and nailed down their outstretched hands.

Their extended arms were bound to the beams to support their weight until hoisted.

Loathed Assignment

Then, one at a time, the three beams, with the bodies affixed, were raised by ropes to stout upright stakes, and the crossbeams lashed to notches. The victims' legs were set astride pegs, their feet fastened with long nails, and the arm ropes removed.

The crowd stared. Time dragged. Pretorius sweated. He loathed the assignment, especially this one, even though crucifixion was a common Roman punishment for non-Roman criminals of the worst sort and slaves.

Victims Die Screaming

In Syria, he once watched a mass crucifixion of 2,000 rebels. There wasn't enough room for the crosses, and not enough crosses for the bodies. It was the cruelest, most spectacular death known — far worse than stoning or burning.

The nails were nothing, compared to the muscular agony. It began with the tearing pull of a man's suspended weight, then the slow, vicious cramps curling like knives through the body, the taut flesh constricting the blood flow. Most of the victims died screaming maniacs.

Death came gradually, sometimes taking days, from sheer pain and exhaustion. Often bodies were left to rot where they hung. Today, the orders were to get it over quickly, before Passover began at nightfall.

Pretorius felt strangely drawn to the imperturbable "holy man," who was so incredibly self-possessed, so remote, compared to the other ranters. The man ever refused the opiate wine (mixed with fail) to dull the pain.

Jeer "Holy Man"

Spectators and passers-by on the nearby public thoroughfare jeered at Him. "He saved others — let him save himself!" The soldiers joined in the raillery, and like jackals, divided the prisoners' belongings — a custom.

Pretorius eyed them in disgust. The abominable louts! German mercenaries, ignorant Italian volunteers! But they'd think him gone mad if he stopped them. He could show no heart. He was a Roman officer, a centurion, commander of a century of 100 men, professionally without sentiment, under orders! Carry on!

Pretorius sighed. Uneasily, his gaze stole up to the dying men. They were talking, brokenly, in strained, hoarse voices. Pretorius strove to hear, his nerves edgy at the fortitude of this man, Jesus.

Overhears Words

One robber was appealing to Him, "I deserve this . . . My crimes are many . . . Remember me . . ."

And the "Holy One," with His awesome composure, His almost words still vivid with hope despite the pain, the exertion and the tight breathing, said, "Verily . . . Today, thou shalt . . . shall be with Me in paradise."

Surely, this is nonsense, Pretorius told himself. What manner of god could He be — who asks no burnt offerings, no shrines — but only one's own belief? Pretorius paced to and fro, scowling at the taunting onlookers.

After one burst of public reversion, the "Holy Man" raised His head tremulously and implored, "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do." Tears wet His cheeks. His sweat ran red with blood, a frequent reaction.

Makes Confession

Suddenly, the sky darkened, and a rumble sounded and the earth shook. The soldiers bounded for their weapons and shields, gape-mouthed, scared. Pretorius stood motionless, spellbound.

Some time later, the glow of day began creeping back like the dawn. The Holy Man spoke. "Father, unto Thy hands I commend My spirit . . . It is finished!" He sagged. He was dead before the soldiers lanced the three.

It was full light. A bird sang in a carob tree.

Pretorius took off his helmet.

"Certainly this man was innocent."

He murmured. He bit his lip, a throbbing at his temples. "Truly,

this was the Son of God."

He glanced at his men, and ignoring them, dropped to his knees.

SEE FUNDS FOR NEW RESERVOIR

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Flood (D-Pa.) is pressing for a $1.5 million dollar appropriation to continue construction of the 18-million dollar Bear Creek reservoir in the year beginning July 1.

Flood, in whose district the flood control dam will be located, told a House Appropriations subcommittee on Tuesday ground breaking for the project is scheduled April 26. He said sufficient funds should be provided to keep the work going.

Flood's request was similar to one made by Rep. Walter (D-Pa.) earlier this month.

Congress appropriated $300,000 earlier this year to start the work. The money asked for the year beginning July 1 is the same amount asked by the Budget Bureau for the project.

Flood told the committee the dam will provide flood protection to some 20 communities from White Haven, Luzerne County, to Easton. He added that 35 million dollars in flood damage has been caused in the Lehigh Valley in years past. The reservoir will take about 5½ years to build.

GOALS
NEW YORK — Ben Hogan announced he would compete in the International matches at Surrey, England in June.

POWER IN GOLF
NEW YORK — Great Britain's Henry Cotton, returning to America for the first time in eight years to play in the Masters Tournament, says golf no longer is a game for the "popcorn-ball hitter, the artist of the links."

"It would be something new, playing without John. We've been together a long while now, and from the way he's played and hit, he should be with the club."

Johny, who was an All America basketball player at Seattle, is the better hitter of the twins. He had a .299 average last year to lead all the Pirates playing 84 games at second base. At the moment he's fighting hard for the regular second base job and, if he does not get it, is expected to be retained as a utility infielder.

JOHNNY DOES BETTER
It doesn't look as though I'll get to play much and you can't learn sitting around," said Eddie. "About all Bobby (Bobby Bragan, Pirate manager) will use me for is a pinch hitter, or to fill in somewhere late in a game in case we use a pinch batter for one of the infielders.

"We've got to have a lefthander and at this point, I don't think Simmons is it."

Simmons has been bothered by a sore arm and a recovery by the big southpaw is generally regarded as the key to the Phils' 1956 pennant hopes.

PHILADELPHIA — Just for the record, Don Jones of Farrell High School scored 28 points against Palmyra last Saturday night in the PIAA basketball championship game.

After the game, newsmen, radio and television casters covering the game, credited Jones with totals varying from 26 to 30. However, the official scorer reports that Jones had 28.

The record for a title game is 29, established in 1952 by Julius McCoy of Farrell.

FT. MYERS, Fla. — Pitcher Fred Waters, who has waited seven years to stick with a major league club, has jumped into the spotlight as the Pittsburgh Pirates No. 1 southpaw.

Waters came to the Pirates three years ago as part of the deal with the Milwaukee Braves for Danny O'Connell. The 28-year-old hurler had an impressive 18-3 record at Mexico City and did well in the Dominican Republic winter league.

In seven innings of relief work against Kansas City, the Cardinals and the Reds, Waters is un-scored on and has allowed only three hits.

CLEARWATER, Fla. — Manager Mayo Smith says he isn't counting Curt Simmons in the Philadelphia Phillies plans for this season.

Smith said he plans to keep 10 pitchers on the Phils' roster this year "but I can envision now is to stay with the club two years."

"We've got to have a lefthander and at this point, I don't think Simmons is it."

Simmons has been bothered by a sore arm and a recovery by the big southpaw is generally regarded as the key to the Phils' 1956 pennant hopes.

SAYS ACCENT ON POWER IN GOLF

NEW YORK — Great Britain's Henry Cotton, returning to America for the first time in eight years to play in the Masters Tournament, says golf no longer is a game for the "popcorn-ball hitter, the artist of the links."

"It would be something new, playing without John. We've been together a long while now, and from the way he's played and hit, he should be with the club."

Johny, who was an All America basketball player at Seattle, is the better hitter of the twins. He had a .299 average last year to lead all the Pirates playing 84 games at second base. At the moment he's fighting hard for the regular second base job and, if he does not get it, is expected to be retained as a utility infielder.

JOHNNY DOES BETTER
It doesn't look as though I'll get to play much and you can't learn sitting around," said Eddie. "About all Bobby (Bobby Bragan, Pirate manager) will use me for is a pinch hitter, or to fill in somewhere late in a game in case we use a pinch batter for one of the infielders.

CLEWATER, Fla. — The 1956 season's first full-scale feud was in the making today with a possible climax promised for the April 17 National League opener between the Brooklyn Dodgers and the Philadelphia Phillies.

ADLAI ANGRY UPSET; ATTACKS RIVAL KEFAUVER

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Municipal Court Judge James Demopoulos was subjected to an eye-popping experience.

"He staggered, his speech was incoherent and his eyes bloodshot," a patrolman said in citing evidence against a defendant charged with drunk driving.

The defendant then insisted on a private conference with the judge.

In the judge's chamber, the defendant disengaged a glass eye.

"I just want you to know that this glass eye is made with bloodshot streaks in it and that it wasn't my real eye," he said.

The judge, a bit unnerved, postponed a decision in the case.

Red Prosecution Snag Under Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has agreed to decide, probably at its next term, whether the government may prosecute persons who belong to the Communist party while knowing it advocates violent revolution.

He said he has long favored a 400-million-dollar annual school improvement program and added: "The other day my Democratic friend proposed a 500-million-dollar-a-year school improvement program. And I was outbid again."

"I have been upset on another count. They say Stevenson is aloof.

When a man's been in public life very long he cannot afford to be aloof.

"To prove that I'm not aloof, I am going to shake hands with everyone in this room tonight, even if it takes me all night. Stevenson can shake hands too."

The eyes of both candidates are now on the California primary June 5. Stevenson arrived in his native city less than 24 hours after Kefauver had finished five-day campaign in southern California.

"My friends," he told the rally, "the underdog came back to do a little barking."

Stevenson said he would have to

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Adlai Stevenson—"a little angry and upset"—has launched his strongest, most personal attack yet on Sen. Estes Kefauver, his rival for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Stevenson, in a major address here last night, charged Kefauver with trying to capture California support with the same kind of "boss nonsense" which the senator cited in Minnesota.

"But more important even than this effort to injure me . . . by confusing endorsement with dictation is that by discriminating the leaders of the Democratic party here in California the senator and his spokesmen can only weaken and divide the party and thereby help the Republicans," Stevenson declared in his televised speech.

To party observers, it looked as if Stevenson had taken off his wraps for a hand-to-hand encounter with Kefauver even though the former Illinois governor had indicated earlier that he did not intend to engage in personalities.

His unmistakable jab last night made it appear that he had decided a real knockdown fight is necessary if he is to recover from the Kefauver victory in Minnesota last week.

Obviously referring to Kefauver, he told a rally of 500 Democrats later last night:

Won't Outbid

"I have been a little angry and upset about things that have happened lately. His characterization of your leaders as bosses upset me deeply. Now it's my turn to fight for you."

CANADA WOULD STIR UP ACTION IN INDOCHINA

By WARREN ROGERS Jr.
WASHINGTON (AP) — Canada is seeking to push the Indochina stalemate off dead center far enough to hold talks about unifying elections—if not the elections themselves.

Canada's Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson is understood to be doing most of the pushing. He dined here last night with Secretary of State Dulles and has arranged to confer in New York tomorrow with India's V. K. Krishna Menon.

Canada and India are members of the International Truce Commission in Indochina. Communist Poland is the third member.

As things now stand, the biggest Indochina state of Viet Nam is divided between the Communists in the North and the west-backed government of Premier Ngo Dinh Diem in the South.

Diem's strength has grown from rebel-badered shakiness to a peak reached with election this month of a constituent assembly in which his supporters hold most of the seats. It is expected to produce a constitution giving Diem much power.

Korea Will Elect President May 15

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — The South Korean government Wednesday set May 15 as the date for the presidential election which will pit Syngman Rhee against one of his long-time political foes.

The election date was announced a few hours after the opposition Democratic party named National Assemblyman P. H. Shinicky, 63, to oppose the 81-year-old President's bid for a third term.

Shinicky, a conservative, has been one of Rhee's bitterest political rivals since both fought the Japanese occupation of Korea before World War II. Rhee fled to Hawaii and the United States.

Shinicky to China. Both are staunch anti-Communists.

Most observers consider Rhee unbeatable.

As things now stand, the biggest Indochina state of Viet Nam is divided between the Communists in the North and the west-backed government of Premier Ngo Dinh Diem in the South.

Diem's strength has grown from rebel-badered shakiness to a peak reached with election this month of a constituent assembly in which his supporters hold most of the seats. It is expected to produce a constitution giving Diem much power.

Going Ahead With April Bomb Tests

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States is going ahead with its April H-bomb tests at the Eniwetok atoll despite protests of the native Marshall Islanders.

Each year the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge presents awards in the form of George Washington Honor Medals, for various achievements. This year the top category was given to the Florida Power & Light Company for a local campaign in newspapers of that state.

The advertisements which were honored are striking and unusual. They pay tribute to the deeds of private enterprise in a lengthy list of fields — transportation, communications, insurance, building, retailing, banking, labor, the professions, and so on. The work of free men and women, the texts emphasize, has given us unequalled material benefits and comforts — and along with them, freedom and opportunity.

It would be good if more business enterprises followed a similar line in their advertising in their towns and regions. We tend to take all the good things of life for granted. We know that any service or commodity is available when we want it. And we tend to over look what has made this possible, which is freedom — freedom to compete, freedom to take a chance, freedom to go as far as one's desires and capabilities permit. Freedom is basically a spiritual value — but all our material values have stemmed from it.

It's not too late, though, for you to pledge yourself to protecting life through safe traffic habits from this day forward.

If you do, you will be as actively helping to save human life as the doctor, laboratory researcher, policeman, fireman or any of the other champions of life.

If you don't — you are as dangerous to your fellow beings as some life-taking disease or the murderer himself. This is one responsibility that no one — however much his professional skill, alertness and courage — can assume for you. Traffic safety is your life-giving power.

Practice it and you can have that immeasurable satisfaction of being a true guardian of life.

Doctors are dedicated to saving life. Through their professional skills thousands upon thousands of people enjoy longer, happier lives.

BAKE LOAF CAKE USE AS BASE IN BAKED ALASKAS

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

The ASSOCIATED PRESS
Bake a loaf cake and use it several ways — plain and fancy. Slices of the cake will make the foundation for Individual Baked Alaskas when you are having company. The rest of the loaf cake will be welcome at family meals — with fruit or chocolate pudding, for instance. We like slices of the cake toasted, too, for afternoon tea.

One caution when you try this recipe for Individual Baked Alaskas. Use a really large cookie sheet so you'll have plenty of elbow room when you are covering cake and ice cream with meringue. This guidance comes from our own experience; pay attention to it.

And another piece of advice. Enlist the help of your sister, your cousin or your aunt when you are assembling the individual cake-and-ice cream concoctions. They take two people — both working fast. I can usually manage one big Baked Alaska myself, but I find these small ones are tricky because it takes time to spread each of them with meringue.

GOLDEN LOAF CAKE
Ingredients: 2 1/4 cups sifted cake flour, 2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup butter or margarine, 2 teaspoons grated orange rind, 1/2 cup milk, 5 egg yolks (unbeaten).

Method: Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Stir butter just to soften with orange rind. Sift in dry ingredients. Add 1/2 cup of the milk and the egg yolks; mix until flour is dampened. Then beat 2 minutes at low speed in electric mixer, or 300 vigorous strokes by hand. Add remaining 1/2 cup milk and beat 1 minute longer in mixer, at low speed, or 150 strokes by hand. Turn batter into loaf pan (9 by 5 by 3 inches) that has been lined on bottom with brown or waxed paper. (It is not necessary to grease bottom of pan or paper). Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 50 to 55 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Allow cake to stand in pan on cooling rack about 10 minutes; turn out on rack; strip off paper.

INDIVIDUAL BAKED ALASKAS

Ingredients: 3 slices (1/2 inch thick) Golden Loaf Cake, 4 egg whites, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, 1 pint very firm brick ice cream, 1 package quick-frozen raspberries.

Note: Make sure that ice cream is very firm; cut it with a knife dipped in hot water.

Method: Cut each of the three slices of cake in half. Place on large cookie sheet. Beat egg whites until foamy throughout. Add the sugar, a tablespoon at a time; beat after each addition until sugar is

Currie Seeks To Be Colombian Citizen

BOGOTÁ, Colombia (AP)—Lauchlin B. Currie, former White House aide mentioned in Washington investigations of Soviet spy rings, has applied for Colombian citizenship.

His petition is before the governor of Cundinamarca state.

The U.S. State Department said Monday that Currie had lost his American citizenship because he had stayed outside the country for more than five years.

blended. Beat in vanilla. Continue beating until meringue stands in stiff peaks. Cut very firm ice cream into 6 equal parts, each a little smaller than the half slices of cake. Place a slice of ice cream on each slice of cake. Spread meringue over cake and ice cream, covering completely. Place in very hot (450 degrees) oven for 4 or 5 minutes until meringue peaks are lightly browned. Serve at once with thawed frozen raspberries as sauce. Makes 6 servings.

Note: Make sure that ice cream is very firm; cut it with a knife dipped in hot water.

FABLES FITTING AS INSTRUMENT OF PROPAGANDA

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Think of Aesop's Fables and you turn back to childhood memories.

But Dr. Chauncey E. Finch, professor of classical languages at St. Louis University, finds the fables have made good propaganda weapons, too.

He came across two anonymous poems in microfilms of the Vatican library manuscripts at the university showing the tales used in a tart exchange between the cities of Venice and Padua back in 1508.

"You Venetians," Padua wrote in a Latin poem shortly after being freed from Venetian control, "can be considered as being in the position of the horse who, according to the fable, was equipped with a beautiful saddle and fine trappings and was very scornful of the lowly ass. But later on, the horse was stripped of his finery as a result of an accident sustained by him, and was compelled to accept the same lot as the lowly ass."

The Voice of America, Dr. Finch says, made use of the fable of the lion's share in a satire on trade relations between the Soviet Union and her satellites in 1950.

Communist Party Leader Is Seized

CHICAGO (AP)—A reputed top Communist party leader was seized by FBI agents on a South Side street on Tuesday.

Emanuel Blum, who the FBI said headed various Communist party groups in New England and elsewhere, offered no resistance. Blum was held in lieu of $20,000 bond for a hearing April 4.

you will receive worse, as you might guess from the fable of the fly who kept tormenting the bald man. Stay away from our territory and avoid using arrogant words, since the fable of the crow who brought grief to himself by putting on peacock feathers and pretending that he was more important than he actually was applies to you too."

Russia Uses Fable

Modern-day usage of the Fables from Russia came in the United Nations in 1946, Dr. Finch points out, when the fable about the wolf and the lamb was employed in an attack on the United States during a dispute over disposal of the Yugoslav and Czechoslovakian fleets.

The Voice of America, Dr. Finch says, made use of the fable of the lion's share in a satire on trade relations between the Soviet Union and her satellites in 1950.

DON ARMOR TO FIGHT CRIME

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit police are getting to get themselves some armor that will make them look like visitors from another planet. They figure that if they had had such protection one officer would not have been slain and another wounded in police sieges last August.

One of the items resembles the ancient "iron maiden" — a finger-tight coat of quarter-inch armor plate. To go with this there are leg pads resembling those of a hockey goalie.

Use Bullet-Proof Glass

A bullet-proof glass insert provides visibility and a powerful searchlight adorns the top.

Another item is a portable piece of armor plate resembling a Roman chariot. This is mounted on wheels.

Cleans WALLS in 1 wipe! No rinsing

BLUKO LIQUID HOUSE CLEANER

so police officers can crouch behind it and shoot through small portholes.

Each police precinct station in the city will be equipped with one of each of the "iron maiden" outfitts. Three of the portable shields will be strategically located around the city.

Ordered Army M-8 Tank

Police also have ordered one Army M-8 tank for use in pitched battles. Four officers can ride in the vehicle, on which even the tires are armored.

HE'S FOR IKE AND DICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Nixon was described by Rep. Gavin (R-Pa.) Wednesday as a "conscientious, practical, sound-

Gavin, whip of the Pennsylvania Republican delegation in Congress, said he "heartily endorses" Nixon as President Eisenhower's running mate this year.

SHIVERS WILL FIGHT RAYBURN FOR STATE VOTE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Differences within the major parties in Texas and North Dakota took some political attention today away from the Democratic contest for the Presidential nomination.

In Texas, Gov. Allan Shivers challenged Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn to a finish fight for control of the state's delegation to the Democratic National Convention. There was no immediate comment from Rayburn.

North Dakota's Nonpartisan League appeared ready to withdraw at its biennial convention in Bismarck from the Republican party, with which it has been aligned for 40 years while opposing many GOP policies. The league seemed ready to switch over to the Democrats at the convention.

Cites New Challenge

Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, campaigning for votes in the June 5 California presidential primary, urged a White House conference to meet a challenge from Russia in the fields of science and technology.

Speaking at Van Nuys, Kefauver said that "if federal aid is called for, such as through the provision of scholarships or adequate research activities, we must see that this is done."

Adlai Stevenson, the Democrats' unsuccessful candidate for the presidency in 1952, arranged to fly from Chicago to California Wednesday. He seeks to reverse in the primary there Kefauver's upset victory over him in Minnesota last week.

A poll published by the Los Angeles Mirror-News indicated a big lead in that city for Stevenson, but with Kefauver gaining on him rapidly.

In Indiana, backers said they have received authority to enter Kefauver's name in the May 8 primary in that state. Stevenson was said not to be planning to run in Indiana.

Shivers, who supported President Eisenhower in 1952, threw down his challenge to Rayburn in response to the speaker's suggestion that Texas Democrats endorse Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson as a "favorite son" and name him to head their delegation to the Democratic convention.

"A cynical and calculated effort to divide the conservative Democrats in Texas," Shivers called Rayburn's move in a speech to a crowd of 2,000 cheering backers at Houston Tuesday night.

Shivers praised Johnson's record as Democratic leader of the U. S. Senate, but he called Rayburn's suggestion a "trump card ... to take over the state convention, the Texas delegation — and Johnson."

He predicted any such move by a self-styled liberal faction would be beaten at the Democratic State Convention May 22.

Former President Harry S. Truman, commenting on reports of moves to draft him as the Democratic standard bearer again, told a reporter in Kansas City that "30 years of public office is enough."

GOP LEADERS ATTACK O'BRIEN NOMINATION

HARRISBURG (AP)—Two Pittsburgh labor leaders were under fire from a top Republican official today for the endorsement of Judge Henry X. O'Brien for the GOP nomination for State Superior Court.

Henry W. Lark, Republican primary campaign chairman, described the president and vice president of the Pittsburgh Central Labor Union as "two red-hot Democrats" seeking "to divide and conquer Republicans."

John A. Feigel and Melvin Humphreys endorsed the Allegheny County Common Pleas judge who is opposing the GOP organization candidate, Judge Benjamin R. Jones of Luzerne County, in the April 24 primary.

"If the Democratic bosses can get Republicans fighting among themselves in the primary, they think they will have an easier time of it next November, when the big fight comes," Lark said, adding:

TWO WERE KILLED BEFORE HOME BURNED

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Investigators from the fire marshal's office report two women whose bodies were found in the smoking ruins of a North Philadelphia apartment March 18 were battered to death before the fire.

Fire Marshal William Eckles said on Tuesday the blaze was set deliberately in an attempt to conceal the murder of a 35-year-old grandmother and her teen-age daughter. He added that the young mother's two children apparently died as a direct result of the fire. All were negroes.

The victims of the fire were Mrs. Bessie Mae Ward; her daughter, Marie, 17, and the latter's two children, Mary Lee, 2, and Patricia, 1.

Early in 1949 Darcy, who was 22 at the time of the alleged crime, was sentenced to death.

Since then he has received 25 reprieves, his case has been considered by the Pennsylvania Supreme Court four times and has come before the U.S. Supreme court five times.

Darcy was tried in Doylestown, Pa., in June, 1948, for the fatal shooting of a bystander shortly after the armed robbery of a Bucks County, Pa., tavern, on Dec. 22, 1947.

Beat an egg yolk with a couple of tablespoons of milk; use as a glaze for yeast rolls to make them extra special.

DARCY APPEAL IS POSTPONED

WASHINGTON (AP)—Supreme Court argument on contentions that David Darcy of Philadelphia did not receive a fair trial when he was convicted of murder nearly eight years ago has been postponed because of the illness of one of his lawyers.

Court attaches said Charles J. Margiotti of Pittsburgh, who was to argue the case for Darcy, informed the court he was ill. The argument, there, was postponed until April 2 or April 23.

Early in 1949 Darcy, who was 22 at the time of the alleged crime, was sentenced to death. Since then he has received 25 reprieves, his case has been considered by the Pennsylvania Supreme Court four times and has come before the U.S. Supreme court five times.

SEEK COMPROMISE FOR HORROR COMICS BILL

HARRISBURG (AP)—A six-member committee—three men and three women—will begin compromise talks next week on different versions of a bill to outlaw horror comic books in Pennsylvania.

The Senate appointed its three members to the group on Tuesday. They are Sens. Seyler (D-York), Berger (D-Potter) and Flack (R-Luzerne).

They will work with the first all-woman committee of its type appointed by one house in recent history and composed of Reps. Vairo (D-Phila.), Reibman (D-Northampton) and Markley (R-Lehigh).

HECTIC DAY FOR NEWLYWEDS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The wedding day of Italian actress Marisa Pavan and French actor Jean Pierre Aumont was hectic.

The bride lost her diamond engagement ring just before taking off Wednesday morning for an Hawaiian honeymoon.

The diamond and another family heirloom ring Aumont had given her were lost in the powder room of San Francisco International Airport, the bride told police.

Pan American's midnight flight for Honolulu was delayed an hour while police organized a search but failed to find the ring. The distressed couple departed on the plane with police assurance investigation would continue.

The actor and actress were married Tuesday morning in Santa Barbara in the chamber of Municipal Judge Frank P. Kearney. But first a clerk had to hustle back to the license bureau office where they had forgotten the marriage license.

Aumont gave his age as 44, Miss Pavan 23.

TAX SCANDALS GRAND JURORS ARE "STYMIED"

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A federal grand jury has complained it is stymied in its investigation of tax scandals in the Truman administration.

The protest was in an unusual report handed up to Judge George H. Moore on Tuesday.

The jurors said their inquiry has strayed from the path pursued last year.

They pleaded valuable time will be lost if they take a recess at the end of March, as suggested by the Department of Justice. The jury's term runs out in July.

Judge Moore asked the report be forwarded to Atty. Gen. Brownell.

the Justice Department's Tax Division, worked with the jury last year.

Newcomb and Olney have not been active in the investigation in recent weeks. Instead, the jury has been working with David Luce and Max Goldschien, assistants to the attorney general.

To Suspend Probe

The Department of Justice previously had indicated it would suspend the grand jury investigation until after the trial in May of Matthew J. Connelly, T. Lamar Caudle and Harry Schwimmer, already indicted for conspiracy to fix a tax case.

Connelly was an executive assistant at the White House in the Truman administration. Caudle was head of the Justice Department's Criminal Division.

Government attorneys explained if the grand jury's investigation resulted in publicity about similar or related cases, Connelly, Caudle and Schwimmer might have grounds for contending they could not get a fair trial.

PLAN TO CHANGE ELECTORAL VOTE LOST IN SENATE

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—The latest effort to revise the electoral college system of electing presidents and vice presidents has founded on the inability of senators to agree on another method.

After a week of debate, the Senate Tuesday night sent back to its Judiciary Committee various proposed constitutional amendments to abolish the present system under which each state's entire electoral vote goes to the candidate receiving the most popular votes.

Senators Kennedy (D-Mass.) and Douglas (D-Ill.), two leaders of the opposition, said the effect of this action was to kill the issue for this Congress.

Sen. Daniel (D-Tex.), a leader on the other side, agreed this was likely to be the case unless an agreement would be worked out that would win over more senators. He expressed hope this could be done.

One proposed constitutional change that drew the most support was offered as a two-part compromise. Originally it listed 54 senators as cosponsors, but several changed their minds during the debate.

Under this plan, each state could divide its electoral vote among the candidates in proportion to their popular vote, or it could choose its electors as it now selects its senators and representatives in Congress—that is, two by statewide vote and the rest by congressional districts.

On a test vote, the proposal mustered only a 48-37 majority—9 short of the necessary two-thirds.

Sponsors, recognizing defeat, then gave up.

The basic argument of opponents was that the proposed amendment would give added weight in the election of presidents to small, one-party states. Supporters maintained the present "winner-take-all" system puts a premium on the votes of "pressure groups" in key states.

In another vote Tuesday, the Senate overwhelmingly rejected proposals for the election of presidents and vice presidents by direct popular vote, on their nomination in nationwide primaries.

GAZA (AP)—Egyptian and Israeli troops fought a three-hour battle near El Auja demilitarized zone Wednesday, an Egyptian military spokesman declared.

He said the fighting broke out after an Israeli force attacked an Egyptian observation post with automatic fire and mortars.

In Jerusalem, an Israeli spokesman said that the Egyptians opened fire and machinegun fire on an Israeli patrol inside Israel territory in the Nizana area.

BILL PROVIDES ADVISORY BOARD ON AGED IN PA.

HARRISBURG (AP)—A new plan to attack the problems of the aged and aging worker is on Gov. Leader's desk today after gaining final legislative approval.

It would create a nine-member advisory board to deal with the special problems of the older residents of Pennsylvania. In addition the duties of the Labor and Industry Department would be enlarged in the field of aged and aging workers.

On Tuesday the House voted 207-0 to approve Senate amendments in the proposal originally passed by the House last September. It was introduced eight months ago with joint Republican and Democratic support.

Appropriations Cut

Gov. Leader urged passage of the legislation and said it was submitted separately because the problem was too complex and important to be treated in the Fair Employment Practices Law.

The Senate cut in half the $200,000 proposed appropriation for the committee and also stipulated that no more than five members of the board could belong to the same political party. There was no discussion as the House accepted the changes.

The Senate approved the bill 45-0 two weeks ago.

Change License Regulations

Board members, appointed by the governor, would receive $35 a day for actual work up to $5,000 a year. The secretary of labor and industry would be chairman.

Another bill sent to the governor after the House approved Senate revisions changes license regulations and raises fees for state-approved private hospitals, nursing homes, convalescent homes and institutions treating persons for pregnancy.

New fees would range from $15 to $100, compared with the present

LOTS OF ANGLES TO U. S. RAIDS ON COMMUNIST DAILY PAPER

BY JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Donald R. Mooney's raid on the Communists for back taxes has a lot of angles.

The Democrats and Republicans are a little embarrassed; the Justice Department is speechless; Mooney's bosses didn't seem to know what he was up to; calling the Communists a "political party" is like using a naughty word.

If there's general confusion about Mooney's operations it is because the Internal Revenue Service—he's its director for Lower Manhattan—has not yet issued a clear or full explanation of what he did and why.

Failed To File Return

He raided the Communist party's headquarters in New York to buy their headquarters in New York to buy their

Now it is learned the Democratic and Republican parties evidently have never filed returns.

Highway Hazard Will Be Removed

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Highways Department readied plans today for repairs to a "dangerous and inadequate" underpass carrying a state route under Lehigh Valley Railroad tracks in West Bowmanstown.

The Public Utility Commission yesterday ordered the department to submit plans in 90 days for increasing the vertical clearance in the underpass from 12 to at least 13 feet and widen it from 17½ to 29 feet.

The plans must also provide for a five-foot sidewalk on one side of a 24-foot roadway. The underpass presently contains no sidewalk.

A revival of confidence was the outstanding mark of March. Seeds were planted for future expansion. Some hope that April will see them germinate.

Secretary of Commerce Weeks, however, thinks the pickup may be two or three months away. By then contracts will be let and business will start spending the money for the record amount of new plant and equipment it plans to buy this year.

Short Of Record

Retail Trade as a whole continues to run little behind the record pace of the closing months of 1955. Americans spent more than usual this month for Easter finery—except in those unfortunate regions where storms kept the shoppers away from the stores.

As far as this writer knows no one in the government—in connection with the Mooney raids—has called the Communists a "political party." It may be an accident. But there would be a good reason for not doing so.

Under the corrupt practices law political parties which try to influence elections in more than one state must file with the House of Representatives a report on their income, where they get, how they spend it.

Some Other Angles

The Democrats and Republicans file these reports. House employees say they cannot recall ever having seen such a report from the Communists. It's hard to see how they could call themselves a political party and argue that they don't try to influence elections.

There's a penalty—a year in jail and a $1,000 fine—for not complying with this law. Why hasn't the Justice Department prosecuted the Communist party? The last thing the Justice Department wants to admit is that the Communists are a "political" party.

It has pending in the Supreme Court a case in which it is trying to prove the party is not a bona fide American political party but a Russian agent.

Traffic Ticket Is Given To Train

CONCORD, Mass. (AP)—A railroad train was tagged for blocking traffic yesterday. Police Chief Robert E. Kelley ordered the traffic ticket after getting complaints that Boston & Maine trains were across a town highway for as long as 15 minutes. There's a law which sets a 5 minute limit on stopping across intersections.

SPRING PICKUP IN BUSINESS IS SEEN IN APRIL

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — March bows

out of the business scene more like a lamb than a lion. And businessmen look to April for the first sign of a spring pickup that would take them out of the current leveling-off condition.

The plans must also provide for a five-foot sidewalk on one side of a 24-foot roadway. The underpass presently contains no sidewalk.

A revival of confidence was the outstanding mark of March. Seeds were planted for future expansion. Some hope that April will see them germinate.

ICELAND ASKS U. S. TO MOVE ITS TROOPS OUT

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Iceland's Parliament has called on U.S. forces to quit this North Atlantic defense post. The move would leave the strategic island—an NATO member almost midway between Moscow and New York—with no military force.

The Communist-supported resolution was adopted 31-18 last night over Conservative opposition. It asked that all NATO forces be pulled out "in view of the altered situation" since 1951. At that time the United States and Iceland agreed on the stationing of U.S. Army, Navy and Air Force units here under NATO command.

The Defense Department in Washington said the United States has on the island a "small Army force of battalion size," an Air Force fighter interceptor squadron, several "supporting units" and the joint Iceland defense force. It refused on security grounds to specify the number of men involved.

The resolution said the defense treaty should be revised so that Icelanders—who have no army or navy at present—would take over their own defenses.

SWEDEN'S PRIME MINISTER WILL VISIT S. RUSSIA

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government announced Wednesday that Prime Minister Tage Erlander of neutral Sweden, will tour Stalin's Armenia, where rioting has been reported as a result of the current Kremlin denunciation of the late Soviet dictator.

The announcement of the Swedish leader's tour was taken as an indication that all is quiet in the two southern republics and that the Soviet government feels it has nothing to hide there.

Erlander's trip was announced less than 12 hours after the Communist party organ Pravda published the first broad-scale Soviet newspaper denunciation of Stalin. It said his drive for glory took "monstrous forms" which harmed the Communist cause.

Erlander is scheduled to arrive in Moscow today on a good-will tour of the Soviet Union.

He will leave for Georgia next Wednesday, spend the night in the resort town of Sukhumi, and the next day in Tiflis and Friday in Yerevan, Armenia, the Soviet announcement said.

He will be accompanied by Rolf Solman, Sweden's ambassador to Moscow; other members of the embassy staff, and a group of Swedish reporters.

Student Parade Held

Reports of disorders in Georgia have chiefly involved Tiflis University. The Tiflis newspaper Dawn of the East said in its

Amphibious Force Launched By French

ALGIERS (AP) — French military authorities reported Wednesday the heavy cruiser Georges Leygues had launched the first amphibious operation of the 16-month-old Algerian rebellion.

The cruiser sent marine commandos ashore to attack a rebel fortress on the isolated coast near Cola, in the Philippeville region, after bombing the area.

French army forces arrived by helicopter to join the first "combined" operation of the war.

The coastal area is heavily forested and has no roads connecting it with the interior.

Military authorities reported stepped-up fighting in other areas as French reinforcements continued to arrive in Algeria.

The ease and informality of the first North American summit conference, free of the ceremonies of Washington, apparently have set a pattern for Eisenhower's future international conferences.

He may bring Indian Prime Minister Nehru here for talks in July, officials believe, though no place has been picked. He thinks another American-Canadian Mexican meeting may be held in the same manner.

Hopes For Another

"I hope we can do it again some time," he told Canadian Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent as they said goodbye at the swanky Greenbrier Hotel just before St. Laurent took off for Washington and Ottawa.

Dawn of the East indicated students in Georgia already were showing renewed signs of their intense pride in their separate nationality long before the current Kremlin campaign against Stalin rule.

A few minutes later he wished a "fine trip" to Mexican president Adolfo Ruiz Cortines, who motored to Charleston to board Eisenhower's private plane Columbine III for Mexico City.

Eisenhower himself left for Washington by special train. Forecasts of thunderstorms, which threatened to make flying later hazardous, canceled out a tentative plan for Eisenhower to go by plane.

Praise Conference

St. Laurent, flying with his Foreign Secretary Lester Pearson, reached Washington in about an hour. Right behind them came Secretary of State Dulles. All three praised the conference as useful.

Pearson had a dinner date with Dulles and planned a trip to New York today before returning to Canada Friday.

Pearson said Middle East questions were considered at the meeting. But he indicated no decisions were called for or reached. He said his meeting with Dulles last night is a followup to discussions he held with the secretary of state at the conference. But again, he said, no decisions should be expected since it is mostly a social meeting.

PLANE EXPLODES

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — An Air Force B47 exploded and crashed three miles northeast of Wichita Wednesday. Three men were reported killed.

Officials at McConnell Air Force Base said the plane had been identified as a B47 but not as one attached to that base.

Nellie Fox of the Chicago White Sox struck out only 15 times in 154 games in 1955.

FIRST AMERICAN 'SUMMIT' MAY SET PATTERN

DAILY WORKER PADLOCKING IS DRAWING PRAISE

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The adlocking of U.S. Communist party offices and those of its paper, the Daily Worker, drew praise today from several members of Congress.

Senators McClellan (D-Ark) and Robertson (D-Va) endorsed a proposal by Sen. Wiley (R-Wis) that the Treasury Department assign a panel of crack income tax experts for an "all-out blitz" against Communist organizations.

In a letter to Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and in a Senate speech yesterday, Wiley said the technique he has in mind is the same used in income tax cases used to jail gangsters.

Claim Persecution

Internal revenue agents clapped padlocks on Communist headquarters and the Daily Worker offices in New York Tuesday, and in simultaneous raids also padlocked Communist party offices in other cities, alleging income tax delinquencies.

Declarating it is being persecuted, the Communist party contends it is exempt from such taxes as a political party. The Daily Worker says it owes no taxes and that it has been operating at a loss.

McClellan, a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, said he would be willing to support any Treasury Department request for more money to finance such a move as Wiley proposed. But he added the revenue service

Expelled Student Is Indicted For Murder

BARTOW, Fla. (AP)—Clarks Gavin, 24-year-old expelled student of Florida Southern College, was indicted for first degree murder by the Polk County grand jury on Tuesday in the unexplained killing of another student March 21.

Lt. Grant Harden of the Lakeland police said Gavin has admitted shooting 23-year-old Anthony McBride Jr., of Havertown, Pa., but has given no reason.

Arrested shortly after the killing, Gavin has shown no emotion during his week in a jail cell here. Dr. Ludd M. Spivey, president of the college, described him as "unstable."

No date has been set for his arraignment on the murder charge.

Gavin, a business administration freshman from Northport, N.Y., was expelled after he shot Dick Blackwell, a student from Tampa, in the foot March 13.

"seems to be getting along" on what it has.

Keeps Publishing
Robertson voiced similar views in a separate interview.

The Daily Worker kept on publishing, using a private firm to do its printing. Only its offices were padlocked.

Indications here were that Donald R. Moyses, the Lower Manhattan regional revenue director, apparently acted without consulting higher authority in ordering the padlocking actions.

"Whoever is responsible deserves a nice pat on the back," Sen. Mundt (R-SD) said. "God bless 'em," said Sen. Bender (R-Ohio).

MEXICAN SHIP BURNS, SINKS; PLANE CRASHES

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The Mexican motor vessel Matul, reportedly carrying 50 passengers, burned and sank in the Gulf of Campeche last night with no known survivors. The Coast Guard said.

A Mexican patrol bomber, sent to look for survivors, crashed 20 miles from the scene of last night's sinking. The wreckage was taken in tow but there was no information on the fate of the crewmen. The plane normally would carry four or five men.

The motor vessel was said to have sunk 60 miles north-northwest off Campeche, on the Yucatan Peninsula, while on a 360-mile trip from Campeche to Veracruz on the eastern coast of Mexico.

Passengers Aboard

A report from Tampico, Mexico, said the ship sent out SOS calls yesterday saying it was burning and had "several passengers aboard." The SOS calls continued throughout the afternoon. The ship sank about 6 p.m.

The ship did not say if it carried liveboats.

The Coast Guard said no SOS calls were heard in New Orleans; Galveston, Tex.; Mobile, Ala.; or by a ship about 200 miles away from the scene of the sinking.

The Coast Guard cutter Dione of Freeport, Tex., and a patrol plane from Corpus Christi, Tex., were sent to aid in the search. A dozen United States fishing vessels, three merchant ships and many Mexican boats already were on the scene.

Al Smith of the Cleveland Indians doubled his previous season's home run output in 1955 when he smacked 22. In 1954 he hit 11 round trippers.
